SAFE BLOWERS GET $1000 AND OLD COINS AND ESCAPE

Our Town

The political web is not spun. The wiseacres of the genius-politico whose condescending interest in the "dear peepul" has strewn the path of progress with the debris of broken promises all the way from Jefferson may find it different this time Once in Texas a eukelele poured forth its melody from the Governor's mansion into the appreciative ears of a great audience but now its burden is altogether plaintive. Narcissus no longer lives, for the echo does not come back to tap the ear drums of the politicians. Farmer Jim has lost his man Friday. Persistent rumors are that the sage of Duval, Senor Archie Parr, has deserted the camp of Ferguson and will become the campaign manager for H. L. Darwin for Governor. The political zodiac shows some strange signs and rumor is that Jim will get out of the race. And furthermore it is whispered that he will get out in favor of Darwin. All of which operates to the grave disadvantage of the two Davidsons and a host of others who think they have hit the lottery for a capital prize: The flesh pots of Egypt may no longer appeal to the straw workers.

A tender gosling at the mercy of the political grown up geese in the barnyard of Texas politics seems to be just about the only way to express the position of the Farm Labor Union. They endorsed Fred W. Davis for United States Senator; T. W. Davidson for Governor and now others who did not get the tidbits of the new bloc are out with vengeance. Joe Burket says he did not seek the endorsement of the Farm Labor Union and moreover he believes the union has made a grave error in injecting bloc politics into the campaign. Along comes Lynch Davidson and takes a crack at the union by saying that he does not want the endorsement of any bloc or organization but his appeal is to the great mass of people. He is not a demagogue.

The Lions are roarin'. Let us hope they will meet every expectation in their announced policy of civic progressiveness. If they do moss simply will not grow in Cameron and then we would have some hopes of getting the streets fixed around the Yoe High School and the campus cleared of weeds that have so long clogged the chriot wheels of civic pride and progress. The Lions have started some worthy things among them a new hotel for Cameron. This does not mean that the Lions are to build the hotel but they favor it and that means a great deal so far as crystalizing sentiment is concerned.

Tuesday at the Lion's Club Lion Hutcherson told the men that perhaps the greatest tragedy in human life is that so many men are born into the world and live out their alloted years without finding any great purpose in life. Certainly this is a tragedy and however much we dislike to think of the failure of men we must acknowledge this is true. Lion Hutcherson was appealing to the men for their influence in the Boy Scout movement. He said the boys are watching us men. They are following our footsteps, so to speak and if by example we do not set up the beacon of good morals the boys are sure to grope in the shadows. Influence is the thing that counts. Where are we leading our boys? Are our minds clean, our lives clean, our acts above reproach? Is it safe for our boys to follow our foot prints to manhood's high noon?

Does the school board know what its needs are? Has it been alive to the dangers of delay such as has characterized the course of the building program? The city acting on instruction from the President of the Board advertising for the sale of $150,000 in school bonds. Confusion developed and no sale has been made. Finally it has been agreed that $100,000 will be sold. If this is done and no additional bonds of the issue are sold the negroes will get no school and the program will be one of short vision and the certain developments

FLEET OF TRUCKS ON GROUND FOR PAVING

GRAVELING STREETS FOR ASPHALT SURFACING STARTS CAMERON.

Tuesday a large fleet of three ton trucks arrived in Cameron to begin work of hauling gravel to fill in for the base of the street paving.

The engineers are this week completing the concrete work and the laying of gutter and curbs. The gravel is to be eight inches in thickness compacted and it will be necessary for a large amount of excavation to be done on the streets in order to lay the base of gravel.

Telephone and electric light crews are this week moving poles in the paving area made necessary because of the rounding of the street corners.

Practically all the storm sewer and drainage work has been completed and it is hoped that asphalt will be laid within a short time.

Geo. Blancett of Yarrellton was trading in town Saturday.

Alex Triggs has been named as presiding officer of the election and the polls will open at the usual hour.

The new city officers will take oath on or about April 15.

Big Field of Candidates Start for the Goal Where Reposes Valuable Prizes

CANDIDATES MAKING SUPREME EFFORT DURING BIG 200,000 EXTRA VOTE OFFER.

The Herald's Big Subscription Campaign is just getting them with preliminary stages. A large number of candidates for the prizes have been entered What is said in the notes following the subjoined list of nominees for the capital prizes is commended to the careful reading of every candidate and every prospective candidate. Remember that the order in which names of the nominees appear does not signify their relative standing in the contest. No one can tell that, because the votes are given to the contestant from week to week as they turn in their list of subscribers. It is left to them to place their votes in the ballot box as the box will not be opened till the closing night of the contest. If the candidates choose to announce to the public their lists, that is a matter entirely with them. These precautions are used to the end that every candidate may work under equally favorable conditions. The one big thing is to hustle for subscriptions before the campaign closes but it is to your interest to get your friends subscription and assistance now, right now, because you receive a bigger bonus vote, a much bigger bonus vote for every $30.00 turned in during the first period of the campaign than you will receive during either of the following campaign periods.

LIST OF CANDIDATES.

The opening period of the mammoth subscription drive now running on the Cameron Herald finds many popular people of this section trying hard to win the Essex Coach or one of the beautiful prizes that are to be given away in the course of the next few weeks. The person who displays the best salesmanship qualities between now and April 19th will be the proud owner of the Essex Coach that is offered as the first in the huge campaign of the Herald. Up to the present time not one of the club members have secured a decided lead over the rest of the field and the present writing finds all of them closely bunched in the race, but the largest vote offer to be allowed closes this coming Wednesday night March 26th, and it behooves each and every candidate to get busy in the next few days, so that she may get her full share of the extra votes to

City Requires All Sewer Connections Be Made Now

All sewer connections are required to be made in advance of the paving according to ordinance passed at the meeting of the city council on Tuesday night.

The ordinance provides a penalty for not complying with the ordinance and requires that all property be connected with sewer if within 100 feet of the line.

Immediate compliance with the ordinance has been voted by the city in the paving area so that all connections may be made in advance of the lying of the paving, as in the case of the lead pipes for the water mains.

The ordinance requires connections to be made on all the sewer lines of the city and the city attorney is required to give notice of the law and the requirements for connecting with the sewer mains.

The matter of the mosquito control work was referred to the finance committee and C. R. Phillips chairman of the street committee and Dr. G. E. Sutton, sanitary officer. It is thought that the city will be able to carry on a reasonably good anti-mosquito campaign and drainage but the original program will not be carried out.

Dr. Sutton reported that during the first week of the clean up campaign that two hundred truck loads of cans and trash were hauled to the dumping grounds.

Miss Olive Henderson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henderson, returned to Baylor College Monday after a week end visit with home folks.

Robbers Take Toll From Thorndale Mercantile Co.

Robbers Monday night broke into the Thorndale Mercantile Company store in Thorndale and took a large quantity of goods the value of which is said to have been about $500.

This is one of a number of robberies in Thorndale during the past several years, on one instance two or three stores being burned and later three were sent to the penitentiary for terms.

The report to the Sheriff's office indicated that the character of goods taken was similar to the goods taken in the recent robbery of the Scarbrough & Hicks store in Rockdale. The goods taken consist of dresses, hats, shoes, etc.

Two men were placed under arrest there following the robbery but it was said at the office of the sheriff that the men had been released, they thought.

NOTICE—WATER, WATER.

On Monday afternoon next at 1:30 p. m. the water will be cut off of the entire city from 1:30 p. m. until we can connect up the mains at the Methodist church corner, which will take probably about two hours. Please draw water off to last during this time.

On Tuesday it will be off from Methodist church corner up to H. F. Smith's and on West 7th street.

All of the above is conditioned on no rain.

CAMERON WATER POWER & LIGHT COMPANY.

C. M. BEARD CANDIDATE FOR THE LEGISLATURE

FORMER MEMBER OF THE HOUSE OUT FOR PLACE OF O. D. BAKER AS FLOATER

Hon. C. M. Beard of Milano, for six years a member of the house of representatives for the State of Texas, has announced his candidacy for representative from the flotorial district composed of Milam, Burleson and Lee counties.

Mr. Beard made his announcement Tuesday while in Cameron after he had been urged by friends to enter the field. He has had the matter under advisement for some time and his consent to run for this office was obtained by reason of the wide demand made for his services and the fact that he also would like to represent the counties in the next house.

This place is now held by Hon. O. D. Baker of Gause who has entered the race for Comptroller of Texas.

Mr. Beard will go before the people of the counties on a platform of retrenchment and economy. He will oppose the creation of any more new offices and is opposed to any increase in the tax rate or any expenditure not necessary to be made.

He will vote for no appropriation which is in excess of the income of the state nor will he favor exuenditures which are not dictated by economy. To get the state back on a basis of economy and to stop overexpenditure of the money, is the endeavor that will claim Mr. Beard's attention.

Mr. Beard is strong for education and will vote for all the aid for rural schools that the revenues of the state justify. He wants the per capita appropriation to be $14 as it was when he served in the house. He will support all the higher educational institutions as strongly as the revenues of the state justify.

He is opposed to the creation of any more new courts and the like and will be found on the side of sensible financial policies if elected.

Mr. Beard has many friends in the district who will welcome his announcement and be glad to support him in his race for the office.

He invites the consideration of the people to his candidacy and asks the support of the people at the Democratic Primary election to be held in July 26, 1924.

MONDRIK BROS. SAFE BLOWN SATURDAY NIGHT

OLD COINS SAID TO HAVE HAD FABULOUS VALUE AMONG MISSING MONEY TAKEN.

Safe crackers Saturday night wrecked the safe in the F. C. Mondrik mercantile store in Cameron and made away with more than $1000 in money.

The loot consisted of currency, silver and checks. The thieves used a cap and fuse arrangement to blow open the safe, parts of the wadding being found by officers when called to investigate Sunday morning. A portion of the fuse was found sticking in the safe.

A large sack of grain was used to brace the safe against the impact.

Among the missing money is a number of ancient coins which Mr. Mondrik had been accumulating over a period of twenty years and one of the coins is said to have been valued at nearly a thousand dollars. Cash to the amount of about $900 was also taken from the safe together with a number of checks including vouchers of the Santa Fe R'y cashed by Mr. Mondrik Saturday night for employes of the road here. A small number of the checks were found scattered about the floor, a few Santa Fe checks and one check from the Peter Produce Company.

Valuable papers and other documents were in profusion about the office floor in front of the safe when Mr. Mondrik went to the store Sunday morning.

The outer door of the safe was not locked Saturday night but the thin iron or steel door leading to the cash drawer and safety boxes was blown open. This door was blackened and twisted by the explosion of the cap, the lock being blown away. So far as has been learned no one heard the explosion. The robbery is thought to have taken place early Sunday morning.

This is the second safe robbery within the week and the third to have occured here within the past year.

While Mr. Mondrik could not give the exact amount of the money taken it is estimated to be around $1100. Sheriff Rogers and deputies are working on the case.

Monday four arrests were made but later two of the men taken were released. Two are being held on circumstantial evidence in connection with the robbery, it was said at the office of the sheriff Tuesday.

Mrs. R. M. Campbell who has been a guest in the home of her sister in law, Mrs. D. Monros, left Friday for Oklahoma City, and from there will return to her home in Chicago.

COUNCIL REJECTS ALL BIDS FOR SALE BONDS AND WILL READVERTISE

At an adjourned meeting Wednesday afternoon the city council voted to reject all bids received for the school bonds and the sewage disposal plant bonds and will re-advertise for the sale of these bonds on April 1.

Only one bid was received on the disposal plant bonds and that bid made by the Citizens National Bank of Cameron. This bank also bid on the school bonds.

One bid was received for par and accrued interest on the school bonds and a premium of $2250 this being the highest bid received. Other bids carried premiums from $900 to one and a quarter per cent.

The school board not being able to tell the council what it considered a definite plan for the expenditure there was some contrast of opinion as to how much of the issue to sell, notwithstanding the fact that the entire issue of $150,000 had been advertised.

At the meeting Tuesday afternoon it was decided to sell $100,000 in first maturities of the school bonds and also the issue of the $25,000 in sewage bonds. These are to be sold as separate issues.

The market is declining fast and it is held by some that there is a possibility of the bonds not bringing as much as at this time and possibly may be below par but the savings in interest rates will offset any decline, it is believed.

The city is also offered contract to sell these bonds at par and premium and to take delivery within ninety days and if it appears that this can be done the city will contract to sell them.

The school board has not yet made its plans and does not know definitely how much of the issue will be needed but an agreement has been reached to sell at least $100,000 of the issue.

HARVEST MOON

By RIVIERA HERSEY

(©, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

EUNICE walked down the path that led to her front gate, her usually merry face marred by a frown, and her little heels digging fiercely into the gravel on the walk. Climbing into the little brown car that stood in the road, she slammed the door after her with a bang. Then, with one more angry glance at the letter, she crushed it into her pocket, threw out the clutch, and letting it in again with a force that somewhat matched her feelings, sent the little roadster forward with a jerk.

She stopped at the grade crossing, and taking out the letter while waiting, read it through once more. As she turned the page, unconsciously a tender light came into her eyes; "—and I know you will be glad to hear that while I was in the neighborhood I went over to the sanitarium to see Jim Harold. Well, all I can say is that the doctors and the baths and treatments have all done their best for him.

"You remember, he said he would try the treatments for six months, whether for weal or for woe, but a terrible wound such as Jim received, added to the hardship of life in the trenches for such a very long time, can do an awful lot of harm, and when you remember that a fellow hasn't been able to walk for nearly eight months—why, he needs a lot of curing."

Eunice's face was very thoughtful.

The sound of her horn brought Grace and Aunt Jane out to meet her, and the three worked busily putting in place all the ears of corn, sumach, place cards and other decorations for the evening. Eunice saved her disappointing news for the very end.

"I shall have to come back alone," she announced as she climbed into the little roadster once more; "Joe sent word this morning that he couldn't possibly get here—at least, not till very late. It's a shame," as she noted the way Grace Harold's face fell.

"Yes, it is too bad," agreed Grace, trying to speak nonchalantly, "and not to have Jim here, either. Poor fellow."

* * * * * * *

"I've a wonderful game to play," whispered Grace in excitement, as Eunice slipped out of her wraps that evening. "It's one that Jim and I used to play when we were youngsters. It's a secret—even from you," and she rushed away to welcome her guests who were just arriving.

A merry, light-hearted group of young folks they were and how they did enjoy themselves. Aunt Jane felt herself growing young once more, and when they had come to the inevitable lull, and even the gayest seemed to lag, she stepped into the breach at once.

"Outdoors, all of you," she commanded, laughingly. "Now, draw lots."

"Who drew the longest strip?" asked Aunt Jane, breaking into the silence.

Eunice held out the paper.

Then Aunt Jane explained:

"Go down into the orchard until you are out of sight of the house. Hold this mirror in your hand, and, letting the moonlight fall over your left shoulder, repeat this rhyme three times. Then look in the glass and the the face of the man you are to marry will look out at you."

So, laughing, Eunice tripped off. Shutting her eyes, she recited rapidly:

Under the Harvest Moon here I stand,
Magic mirror in my hand,
Moonbeams so full in a sky so clear,
Pray let me see in the mirror here
The face of the man who will some day be
The dearest in all the world to me.

So intent was she in getting through with this Peter Piper performance that she did not hear the click of the orchard gate nor the soft swish of footsteps over the pine needles, and with a little scream Eunice dropped the mirror and covered her eyes as a deep, familiar voice behind her repeated softly:

Under the Harvest sky, lo, I stand.
Brought hither, fair lady, at thy command,
For the moon that is shining away up there
Never shone on a face more wondrous fair.
And my life will never quite happy be
Till it's dearest in all this world to me.

And as if to convince her that he was more than thin air, two hands turned Eunice around to confront the impromptu poet.

"Oh, Jim," she gasped, "it is weal, it is weal, I am so glad!"

"Yes," said the man, his voice trembling with emotion, "it is weal, and now I can tell you what I have wanted to tell you for ages, but dared not until I knew I should be well again. Eunice, dear, the harvest moon is shining—won't you give me the welcome home I have been longing for?"

And with a half sob the girl went into his outstretched arms.

* * * * * * *

"Where's Eunice?" he asked, as he missed her.

"Why, she went down into the orchard to keep an engagement with a gentleman," answered one of the boys, "and, by Jove, she didn't go for nothing," he added, excitedly, as two figures came slowly up the path.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

be allowed. At the present time and up to next Wednesday a subscription will average many times more votes than the same subscription if not taken until the last of the campaign, so don't fall down now Candidates, for every minute means something to you and your fight for the Essex Coach. After Wednesday the votes must decrease on every subscription, and during the last part of the drive only one-fourth as many votes will be allowed; so see to it that you take advantage of the huge and splendid vote offer while it is in effect.

Vote Not to be Published.

One of the attractive features of the drive is that at no time during the drive will all the votes of any candidate be published in the columns of this paper. After a candidate works for her votes, they are her own property, and the campaign manager does not possess the right to make known to anyone the candidates votes. If a candidate wants anyone else to know the number of votes she has, she has the right to tell them but that right does not rest with the manager of this campaign. No one on the Herald force will know or make known the votes that are in the name of any candidate until the final judges announce this on the closing night. Every possible precaution has been taken to safeguard the interest of the club members, and anyone interested may rest assured that nothing will be left undone to make this campaign as fair to all parties as human ingenuity can make it. Every candidate is warned to collect all the subscriptions she has beforge the huge offer closes, for now is the time to "Make hay while the sun shines" as goes the old saying. You do it with votes and there is a mighty big prize waiting for you at the close of this campaign. You will get more votes on each subscription between now and next Wednesday than at any time after that date so see to it that you get your full share of them. Many personal friends of the different candidates have been advising them to hold back their subscriptions until the last, expecting to get a great number of votes at that time. This is absolutely not the case, and anyone who attempts this will most certainly be the loser, for the votes on each subscription must decrease after next Wednesday, and at no time will they count as many votes as they do now.

Campaign Clsoes April 19th.

The campaign closes on the night of April 19th and under no consideration will this date be extended, regardless of the number of subscriptions collected or money taken in.

Every candidate should bear in mind that no extra time will be allowed them in which to secure additional votes. Take advantage of this offer now, or forever kiss this life-time opportunity good bye. Another thing that may possibly confuse candidates is the number of rumors that are now or will be traveling around. Candidates should be broadminded enough to take no stock in them, for you know all of these could not possibly be true. Sometimes these false rumors are started by the intimate friends of a co-worker in the campaign, just in order to mislead some one else. Candidates who are easily discouraged will never win and automobile. Only the real stickers and workers can ever hope for such a luxury. Make that some one yourself and win the handsome Essex Coach.

It is not too late yet for a candidate to enter the drive. In fact we expect to have some ambitious persons entering right along. Most any one could enter the drive now and still have a wonderful chance to win one of the major prizes. Remember Mrs. and Miss Public, that the campaign is not over yet, nor have any of the prizes been won by any of the candidates already in the race. You may do better than anyone if you will just try; so think this over and then start out ofter the subscriptions that will mean votes to you in the campaign. Remember someone is going to win these prizes, and it may as well be you as some other person. Call the campaign manager—Phone 221 and ask any preliminary question you may think of and then get your receipt books and start to work. But remember that after Wednesday the vote will start to decrease, and after Wednesday you will not receive the sum of 200,000 extra votes on each and every $30.00 you turn in.

HIS WEDDING

By JANE GORDON

(©, 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

PATTY was wilful; Patty was perverse; Patty used well the power of her charm. For charm she had, or the five big tried brothers, to say nothing of Mrs. Perkins, the housekeeper, would not so long have held happily to her sway.

When quite an infant she had begun to rule the parentless household, and her rule had continued undisputed ever since. Richard, when he learned the overwhelming fact of his love for Patty, sat down promptly in his office chair and considered a way out of his problem; there seemed no way out—but to win Patty—teaching her perforce to return the affection that obsessed him to the exclusion of all else. Looking into a blissful, though uncertain future, Richard saw himself, like the five brothers, Patty's submissive slave. Then a tormenting thought occurred—Patty had been, so far, obdurate to other worthy admirers who sought to claim her, despite her perverseness and mockery.

Poor Robin Train had gone abroad to heal a damaged heart, while Patty continued her nonsense songs seated on the wide bench that other swains were eager to share with her, before the piano. Charlie Holt, too, had been hit hard. Patty told Richard confidently that he could not help the tragedy. "I think," she said, these friends of yours all like me, through pure contrariness; they know I don't want any one of them—or any lover. Lovers turn into rulers, and I enjoy my own sweet way."

"I asked her to stay at home during the hot weather," Brother Ted told Richard, "and she immediately packed and went away. It is always so lonesome without Patty, I wanted to keep her here. But she will do as she likes."

"I begged Patty to get a nurse for me during my serious illness," Brother Bob confided, "but Pat would care for me herself; has not slept a night through in weeks. What Patty will do, she will."

"Mrs. Town would have come in to do the house work while I was laid up with rheumatism," Mrs. Perkins remarked, "but Patty was so afraid her brothers might not have the usual attention that she did the work herself—and the child not used to cooking."

"Patty Price," Charlie Holt spitefully exclaimed, "will canter about on her brother's fiery horse, though he has repeatedly asked her not to drive. Serve her right if she broke her neck." And so on, always—Patty would, or Patty wouldn't.

Patty would go riding in romantic moonlight with some good-looking youth when Richard, in his tormenting jealousy, had entreated her not to do so. There were days when Patty, willful no longer, but all apparent sweet submissiveness, would turn a responsive ear to Richard's pleading, and promise that "some day" she would think about marrying him. No other, he knew, had gained this encouragement.

Acting upon a suggestion given by his experienced sister, Richard tried the old means of provoking jealousy. This was disastrous. Patty in her conquering power would brook no rivalry. And all the time his love deepened like the unmanageable emotion it is. Far from remorseful in the havoc she had caused was Patty.

In desperation Richard went away. In the adjoining city he had his inspiration. The printed name of "Price" in a town paper caused his eyes for a moment to blur with sudden fear—for two names were linked in an engagement notice—"Miss Price to marry Howard Gibbs." Trembling investigation proved the Miss Price not to be Richard's adorably perverse Miss Price.

Two weeks passed—three, and he refrained from writing to her. It was hard not to receive a line himself. The home town paper kept him informed concerning the girl he loved. Patty must be well or she could not have attended the Leslie reception; Patty must be at home. Missing him? That he could not know. After the fourth week Richard called long distance. At the thrilling sound of Patty's voice over the wire he almost lost his resolution; but he persevered. "Called you," he said, after some conversation, "to state a piece of news. I am to be married, Patty. You must be the first to know." Silence, prolonged silence, encouraging or discouraging. Richard could not learn. The voice trembled under brave effort at control—"Married, Dicky! You! When is it to be?"

"Tomorrow evening," he cheerfully responded. "Get the license today."

An unmistakable choking murmur, then Patty's controlled tone—"Who are you going to marry?" It seemed she could not finish with the chummy name she had bestowed; no "Dicky," now.

"I am going to marry you, Patty. No more nonsense, my dear. I will this time. I'm driving back to town to get you at once. There will then be time for the license. Marriage tomorrow evening at eight."

Richard rang off. He could not see the subdued Patty who caught her breath in an agony of relief. Then, her dimpling smile returning, she met her brother in the hall.

"I've got to get ready to ride into the city with Dicky to get a marriage license," said Patty. "I do love a masterful man and a clever one."

GRATEFUL PARENTS POUR OUT THANKS TO TANLAC

The value of Tanlac as a family medicine and tonic is again very forcefully demonstrated. This time in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joesph E. Kaake, 2436 Kirby Ave., West, Detroit, Mich., where father and mother and every member of the family have been benefited by the wholesome and helpful ingredients of the famous prepartion.

Recently, in speaking for herself and children, Mrs. Kaake said: For more than a year our three little ones—John, age 6, Elwyn, 4, and Margarite, 2—had been so peaked and lifeless that we were seriously worried about them. Their stomachs were upset, appetites poor, the color had left their cheeks, their nights were restless, and during the day they would just mope around, taking no interest in play or anything else.

"They began to eat and sleep better almost from the first dose of Tanlac, and have picked up now until you couldn't find three healthier or more active children in all Detroit. They eat ravenously, the color of health has returned to their cheeks, and they just want to be on the go all the time. I have also taken Tanlac to build me up, and it never seems to fail."

"As to my personal experience with Tanlac," said Mr. Kaake, "I simply can't express in words the great help it gave me. About a year ago I was a victim of boils, actually having fifty-one on me, and was so played out that I couldn't do a bit of work for weeks. My suffering was almost unbearable. I carred little for food, suffered with severe headaches and stomach pains, and got so weak and nervous that I felt discouraged.

"Tanlac corrected my stomach disorders, woke up my appetite, cleansed my blood and toned up my system so that the boils went away, and nothing of the kind has bothered me since. I have gained 28 lbs., and I eat, sleep and feel like a brand-new man. We have given Tanlac a fair trial and found it wonderfull, and if anyone doubts our statement they can write personally. We wouldn't think of being without Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

OUR TOWN.

of the future will find the town inadaquately prepared for its duties of public education. The bond market is declining every day. The truth is evident and as surely as we live the bonds will be dragged from pillow to post and finally sold at a discount if further delay is experienced. Unless these bonds are sold prior to April 15 all legislation will have to be repassed and the bonds re-printed. Will the school board reach a definite decision and tell the council what it needs?

It is blindness and nothing else that cannot see the great advantage to Cameron of a Building & Loan Association. Every town ought to be a town of home owners. There are many honest and hard working men who by reason of the combined circumstances of high living conditions have but few moments to look up from the grind stone, but opportunity would open the way for his owning a home if the means were provided. Men of wealth and of more substantial means having large investments in the town should be able to see that if Cameron were a city of home owners economic tides could not rock its foundation. Scarcity of homes brought about by the high price of building materials creates a situation undersirable in our town. Rent property is not to be had because of the limited investment income and about the only solution we can see is to organize a building and loan association which creates opportunity even though at greater cost to the builder, but this is overcome by reason of the savings advantage.

RADICAL UTILITY POLICIES.

The people have a deep interest in well managed public utilities, because hundreds of thousands of consumers of light, heat telephone, water and otther forms of public service are stockholders in these utilities.

Public ownership or what may be termed political management of such properties has not proved a universal success, and thousands of mismanged and unprofitable publicly-owned utility properties have gone back to private ownership.

Movements in states are precipitated from time to time for state-wide ownership of light and power plants, water powers and even telephone service, and even abolition of public service commissions, in the struggles for politicial leaders to get payroll domination.

With hundreds of thousands of utility employes under their control city politicians seek political power to get control of state governments and even power over the national Congress. This is the real secret of attempted public owenrship of interurban and steam railroads.

State and national regulation of public utilities is now amply provided and is giving fair satisfaction to stockholders, extending into millions of laborers and consumers, and there is no excuse for extending the grasp of state or city politicians to larger fields.

One of the factors retarding road development is lack of appreciation of the modern science of highway building and using.

We know too many things about roads which are not so!

Many of our highway ideas are twenty years behind the times. We haven't caught up with the engineer.

For instance, "all roads wear out. The enormous money invested in them is thus a capital loss."

Roads do not wear out. The surface of a good road wears, of course. So does the roof of a house. But replacing the house roof doesn't mean that the rest of the house isn't good. The surface of a road is its roof. If it wears out it must be replaced. But that doesn't mean that the right of way, the grade, foundation, and all the material is any less valuable than at first.

"Trucks destroy roads. Therefore trucks should pay for roads!" That, too, is a fallacy. A truck no more destroys a road, when truck and road fit, than a baby carriage destroys a garden path. It is lack of maintenance which destroys roads, it is allowing too light a road to be built for the traffic it will bear, which destroys roads; it is failure to enact wide tire and maximum load laws which destroys roads.

"There isn't money enough to pay for national highways. We will all be bankrupts!" More fallacy. There are fourteen millian motor cars in the United States. If they are worth on an average of $500 each (which is an underestimate), they represent an investment of $7,000,000,000. Did we get bankrupt buying them? We did not. Why should we get bankrupt buying seven billion dollars worth of roads—and the interest on seven billions will build today more national highways than we have as yet engineers and machinery to build.

Transportation has been, for us Americans, nothing but rail and water for all our history. Now we are compelled to translate the word into "highways" and "motors." Motors we understand—highways, as yet, we only partially comprehend, and "motor transport," as a whole, is yet a sealed book to most of us.

The first step in opening it is to get rid of fallacious thinking—to realize that what used to be, is no more true today, than what is proper road width and cost today, will fit conditions fifty, or a hundred years hence.

News of the Churches

METHODIST BROTHERHOOD.

The Methodist Men's Brotherhood enjoyed their monthly feast in the basement of the Methodist church on Wednesday evening. It was a "gloomy chasing" affair and was largely attended by men of all denominations of this city and several out of town visitors were among those present.

The long tables at which the guests gathered were faultlessly set and adorned with baskets of fragrant blossoms. Plates were placed for one hundred and fifty six men each of whom enjoyed the followship so noticeable at such a social affair. The seven tables were assigned to lady mangers who chose groups of the most charming and attractive young ladies of Cameron to assist them.

The ladies of circle four under the leadership of Mrs. Joe B. Lindsey served the following menu:

Pork ham, escalloped corn, sweet potatoes with marshmallows, Waldorf salad on lettuce, hot rools, butter, "Gunn & McLane" coffee, date pudding and whipped cream.

Copies of the following program were found at each place:

Eats, more Eats, Additional Eats. Addenda.

Duet—Mrs. C. S. Peyton and Mrs A. J. Triggs.

Reading—Miss Clyde Baskin

Moonshine Quartett by Home Brew Artists—Tyson, Harvey, Freeman and Stafford.

Magician—Von Herman De Bull.

People we have known, Royal-Pennyroyal—Nat Goodwin.

Our Guest of Honor—George Waverly Briggs, vice president, City National Bank, Dallas.

All features of the program were enjoyed but especially the court session wherein Toatsmaster Oxsheer Smith was arrested and brought to trial upon a charge of neglecting his wife, Robert D. Wharton acting as sheriff and Royal P. Jeter as Judge.

The States' Attorney were Tom Henderson, Jr., and Paul Webb. Roy Baskin represented the defendant. After many competent witnesses had testified and the eloquent lawyers had argued the case, the jury brought in a verdict of partial guilt and assessed his punishment in part at the purchase of ten tickets for young men for the next Brotherhood meeting. Having recovered his liberty Toastmaster Oxsheer Smith, in a most felicition speech introduced Mr. George Waverly Briggs of Dallas as the orator of the evening.

The most eloquent address yet listened to by the Brotherhood, who have from time to time been entertained by notable speakers, followed. The speaker's witty sallies were so pleasing that all were in tune for his more serious message which was based on a verse from James Russel Lowell as a text on service and faithfulness which was timely and persuasive.

Those present expressed highest appreciation of the distinguished speaker and his inspiring message.

Dr. A. S. Epperson announced that Mr. Briggs had been invited to visit Cameron again at Commencement time to deliver the annual address to the graduating class and that he will accept, if not prevented by important engagements.

Circle number three held a most pleasant meeting in the home of Mrs. W. H. Henley. Eight members were present and completed articles for the linen shower to be given to a young lady missionary now in the Fort Worth Seminary but soon to sail for a mission field in China. All the circles will contribute to this cause by donating money or furnishing linens

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock hour the pastor will preach a special, illustrated sermon for children. We urge all parents and Sunday school teachers to make a special effort to have the children in this service. We also insist that the adults be present, for there will be much in the service of benefit to them.

At the evening hour the pastor will use the theme, "The biggest fool in the world," or "The Man Who Would Feed His Soul on Corn."

We are glad to know that our congregations are appreciating the splendid work of the choir. The choir is regular and faithful in its weekly rehersal, and the splendid quality of music rendered on Sunday is evidence of that.

Come to prayer service Wednesday 26th, 7:30 p. m.

Have you read the booklet, "The Forgotten Man?" Do you read the Texas Christian Advocate? Do you read the Bible? Do you ask a blessing at your table? Do you hold family prayer? Do you ever pray? If one is guilty of neglect along these lines he usually offers some other excuse for not attending his church and endeavoring to do his Christain duty.

Pastor

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

Rev. F. D. Dawson of Jacksonville, Texas, conducted a two days Sunday School Institute at the Methodist church on Sunday and Monday.

Rev. Dawson is Sunday School Filed Secretary for the Texas Conference and is a man well fitted to instruct and enthuse the officers and teachers of the Sunday Schools he visits. His work here was to acquaint the Superintendents and workers of the various departments with the Program of Work which is prescribed by the Methodist church as a standard of excellence to be maintained in organized Sunday Schools everywhere. Four sessions of Institute Work were held and the attendance was good and valuable aid was suggested for each Sunday School department. His suggestions will be incorporated into the future management of the Workers Council which fosters plans for the progress and growth of the Cameron Methodist school.

While in Cameron Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Dunlap had the privilege of entertaining him in their home.

Rev. Dawson was formerly Methodist pastor in Teague, the home of Mrs. Dunlap's parents.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY.

Circle one of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met with Mrs. Ben Atkinson on Monday afternoon and enjoyed a social hour with needlework. A memory contest gave zest to the hour.

Refreshments were served in the dining room. A salad plate with hot tea, followed by marshmallow pudding and cake was daintily served by the daughters of the household. The table was centered with a blooming leyacinth which was presented by the hostess to Mrs. Ernest Eggert circle leader, with a card of appreciation for the faithful service she has rendered in that capacity. The gift was a complete surprise to the honoree who was quite overcome by the presentation of this token of love from circle members.

Circle number two met with Mrs. P. G. Leaverson. The members adjourned to home of Mrs. John B. McLane to honor her mother, Mrs. Amanda A. Brooks, aged 87, a charter member of the Presbyterian church in Cameron and still devotedly in touch with church work although too feeble to attend meetings. A basket of fruit gayly decorated in St. Patrick's Day Colors was presented to Mrs. Brooks as a love token from the circle who graciously thanked the ladies for their kindly remembrance.

Mrs. Leaverson served hot chocolate and cake to the circle. During the social hour plans for next year's Auxiliary work were discussed.

Mrs. Van Tyson was hostess to the members of circle three. Mrs. W. G Gillis led the Bible lesson. The members present, under the leadership of Mrs. N. H. Butts, made plans to entertain the Auxiliary membership on the 3rd of April when the annual installation of officers will be held

"PRUDENCE"

By FLORENCE MELLISH

©, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

WHEN Amos Whiting told Hawkins to give Oscar French some thing on the Eagle, Oscar did not have the vanity to think it was wholly on account of his own journalistic ability. Oscar's father had been Amos Whiting's closest chum. But Oscar had a knack for writing, and he meant to make good.

"You'll have to take whatever Hawkins gives you, even if it doesn't happen to suit your taste; then, by and by, you may get something different.'

"We're swamped with sub reporters already. But if Whiting—see here, you may have 'The Twilight Hour.' Mrs. Starkweather is laid up indefinitely. You give advice to girls, discreet and sensible, but sympathetic. See? Your desk is over there by the window. I'll send you some of Mrs. Starkweather's files so that you can get her drift. Your signature will be 'Prudence Kenworthy.'"

"But—isn't that a lady's name?" Oscar gasped.

"Of course, and you want to be ladylike and refined, you know. No rough stuff and no slang. You'll soon get the feminine touch."

"Great Caesar!" groaned Oscar French, "I don't want to get a feminine touch. I want a man's job."

Hawkins turned a curt shoulder. "That's all I have for you now. You can take it or leave it."

Young French set his teeth. "I'll take it."

"Oh, you'll like it when you get started, especially when the personal letters come in. But don't try to answer many of them. It's a waste of time."

Young French strode over to the desk by the window and buried himself in Mrs. Starkweather's files. He began his uncongenial task with grim determination, and soon had the satisfaction of feeling that at least he was equal to it. When some waggish reporters left an offering of camellias and maidenhair ferns with a box of chocolates on his desk he placidly dumped the flowers into the wastebasket and ate the candy with ostentatious relish.

Oscar's manly determination to get the feminine touch was a success. He soon out-Prudenced Prudence herself, and the personal letters poured in assuring Miss Kenworthy that she was "better and better every day."

The personal letters! He did enjoy them, though he followed Hawkins' advice and answered few of them. But he did write personally to Georgie Goodale. Georgie wasn't sentimental or whiny, and she had some "pep." She lived in Martinville with her aunt Rachael. Aunt Rachael was a dear, but she wouldn't let Georgie do anything that the other young people did, and she was opposed to Georgie's studying law.

"Dear Miss Kenworthy," Georgie wrote, "your letters are a comfort and an inspiration, too. The twilight hour is the best in my day. But I'd give my new camera for a talk with you face to face. Now you like fishing; you said you did. Back of our cottage is a wonderful trout brook, and Aunt Rachel's luncheons are gorgeous. Can't we make a date?"

Oscar French caught at the idea. He did make a date with Georgie. He laughed at the mirrored image of his fisherman's costume in anticipation of her surprise. He looked forward like a schoolboy to the tete-a-tete and the good fishing and Aunt Rachel's "gorgeous luncheon." But when he actually stood on the platform of Marshville station he scanned the faces of the women waiting there, half dreading to meet Georgie.

"I have lots of freckles and look like a boy," she had written. He failed to identify the buoyant and vivacious Georgie in the middle-aged and jaded looking group. A lanky, freckled youth encumbered with fishing tackle, was watching the women who alighted from the train.

"I'm looking for Prudence Kenworthy," he announced impersonally.

"Hello, Georgie," called a genial employee, who was carrying leather mailbags.

Oscar faced the freckled youth.

"That's one of my names."

The freckled youth grinned. "I'm Georgie. The joke's on me," he added magnanimously.

"No, it's on me," French insisted, not to be outdone. "You have the freckles, at any rate. Is there a real trout brook?"

"You bet your life there is! and a cloudy day like this—oh, boy! Come on, partner, and we'll show 'em."

"I'm glad you aren't a lady," Georgie confided to his companion when the wicker baskets were nearly full. "I was beginning to have cold feet."

"So was I," French acknowledged.

"Well, it's time for luncheon, and Aunt Rachel promised to make a peach short-cake. I guess she'll have chicken salad, too."

They tramped across the fields and approached the cottage from the back.

"There's Aunt Rachel in the doorway," cried Georgie, who was striding ahead in the narrow path.

Oscar looked over Georgie's shoulder. That union of girlish grace and womanly poise? Why, Aunt Rachel was peaches and cream!

"Luncheon's ready, Georgie," she called and vanished.

Georgie waved his guest up the broad, low stone steps. Oscar French drew in the fragrance of hot coffee and short-cake and, passing through the low vine-wreathed doorway, he followed Aunt Rachel like hope.

IN AND ABOUT THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Edited by Pupils of the Seventh Grade.

Tedrow Swain.....Editor in Chief
Reba Young.....Assistant Editor

CONDITION OF THE LIBRARY OF GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

At the present time, the library of this school is in a very bad condition. Some of the books have the backs torn off and so many pages are gone that it is impossible to read them. This is especially true of the reference books and there are not enough of them. These books have been in constant use for over three years and as a natural result they are badly damaged.

The old books must be replaced and new ones added. The more books and the better books the school has, the more rapidly the students will advance. Some of the books that are supposed to be read in certain grades are not to be found in the library.

Every child in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, especially, would appreciate new books and would like for everyone in Cameron who is interested in the education of their children to assist in raising funds for this purpose.

THE NEED OF PLAYGROUNDS AT THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

The children of the lower grades have no playground equipment except see-saws. They have to bring their own jumping ropes, tops, dolls, and marbles. They should have slides swings and other playthings furnished by the school.

It isn't best for the children to idle away their recesses and for this reason Cameron should put forth more effort to improve the playgrounds than they have in the past.

There are too many children for the grounds. Each section doesn't have enough room to play their games.

We hope that when we receive our new junior high that ample playgrounds will be provided.

Most of the boys are playing base ball now and some of the girls. The girls bring their own balls and bats but the boys are furnished by the school.

Every child should understand the rules of base ball. It is our great national game and thousands will be playing and enjoying it this summer. We wonder how many will call the umpire a cheater when he makes a decision against them. In other games disputes do not arise between players and umpries but hardly a base ball game passes without this unpleasantness arising.

Now boys who mars the name of American sportsmanship? Select a man to umpire that you know you can depend upon and stick to whatever he says is right.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS.

While the members of the Lion's Club and others have been busy organizing the Boy Scouts, the girls have seemingly been neglected.

However, our mothers and teachers are always interested in our mental and social development, so the Mothers' Club at a recent meeting agreed to sponsor the Camp Fire Girls. Now all we need is leadership and we think the time is not far distant when we shall be able to keep abreast of the Boy Scouts and when we, too, shall be enjoying long hikes and camping trips as the boys now are.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AT THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

One of the most important things at Grammar school is the physical training. It is taught to each division separately and all the exercises are taken out of doors. Fresh air is inhaled and different exercises are given to strengthen the muscles. Fifteen minutes is taken each morning for this purpose.

The pupils enter into the exercises vigorously as if they enjoy it and mean real business. It makes our minds fresh and gives us strength, appetites, and vitality to study, which altogether makes the boys and girls a healthy bunch of children.

NEW LAURELS WON BY JACK TAYLOR FRIDAY

FORMER YOE HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE WINS BAYLOR MEET IN DISCUS THROW.

Jack Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Taylor of Cameron, has won new laurels as a discus thrower at Baylor University where he is a student.

The meeting was held Friday Mar. 14. It was Baylor's First Intramural meet and Taylor won first place in the discus and has received the ribbon awarded in the event.

The following was printed in the school publication Saturday.

"Jack Taylor, Fresman and Interscholastic discus star, threw the discus a distance of 130 feet, which betters the mark made at the Conference meet last season by Jew Goodman of Baylor who threw the discus 127 feet and 6 inches. Taylor is not eligible for varsity track this season but will make Coach Wolf a valuable man next season.

No exceptional records were made in the track events but the time was good considering the heavy track and the chilling wind which swept the field."

Jack Taylor of Cameron, Texas, discus throwing star of the Texas interscholastic league last year threw the discus 130 feet, bettering the mark make at the conference last year by Goodman of Baylor, in an inter-class track meet just ended at Baylor University. Taylor, a freshman, promises to become one of the most valuable men on the 'varsity track team next year. Frank Bridges, director of athletics and foot ball coach at Baylor, says Taylor flashed some of the best ability ever shown by a Baylor freshman on Carroll Field here.

Taylor is not eligible to the 'varsity track team this year, owing to the fact that freshmen are not allowed to play on 'varsity teams in the Southwestern Conference, but Coach Ralph Wolf, in charge of the Baylor track teams, is keeping an eye on Taylor for next year's regular squad. Coaches Bridges and Wolf, both of whom witnessed Taylor's work at the inter-class track meet, were high in their praise of Taylor's ability.

The Cameron lad, who has achieved fame throughout the state as a hurler, and who took part in nation-wide competition at Chicago last year, won first place in the discus throwning event in the inter-class track meet at Baylor, easily outthrowing members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

HOW TO CATCH FAKE STOCK SALESMEN

Some state bankers' associations are distributing an investor's questionnaire with the idea of protecting purchasers of securities from fake stock salesmen.

"Whenever you are solicited to purchase stock or other securities, use this questionnaire before investing any of your funds," says one of these. "The questionnaire was compiled to protect the small investor and to emphasize the necessity of investigating thoroughly every investment proposition before placing any money therein. When you have been furnished with the information called for in this questionnaire, take it to any one of the banking institutions in your community and get its opinion of the stock offered. If the stock salesman refuses to fill out this questionnaire, have nothing more to do with his proposition, as it is evident that he is fostering a fraudulent promotion."

The questionnaire pins the salesman down to answering the following questions:

Date .....
Name of company .....
Name of salesman .....
Kind of stock offered .....
Total issue of stock .....
Stock given for property .....
Stock given for good-will .....
Stock given for patents .....
Are you taking any Liberty Bonds? .....
If so, at what price? .....
Amount of cash needed .....
Par value of stock .....
Market price of stock .....
Has the stock a ready market? .....
If so, where is it listed? .....
Is the stock accepted by banks as collateral for loans? .....
If so, what banks have accepted it to your knowledge? .....
What are the present net earnings? .....
Bank references .....
Names of officers .....
Former occupation .....

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

WHILE FATHER "LISTENED IN"

By ADELAIDE R. KEMP

(©, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

MRS. ANDREWS raised her steel-bowed spectacles over her gray, neatly-parted hair and settled back comfortably in the old stuffed rocker. She watched her husband a little anxiously. On a low stool in front of their radio he was intent on "tuning in." The result at present was a mixture of catcalls and squealing from the graceful loud-speaker that stood just behind the mahogany case. She shook her head and frowned slightly.

"Why don't you stay where you are, pa?" she said. "That was a nice song. You're trying to find the band that plays the new-fangled music—jazz, I think they call it. You know you be," she added accusingly.

"Hush, ma. I can't get nothing when you talk. I'm trying to hear some of them good ones we heard last night—fox trots, they call 'em."

Ma rocked a little and looked around the modest sitting room. They might be moving along with the times, but, except for the shining instrument over which her husband was working so eagerly, the rest of the house remained the same. There in their places stood the old haircloth sofa and chairs prim and straight, and on the floor the carpet with its big roses. She had swept and dusted these things for nearly fifty years. On the mantel back of the chunk stove were her mother's candlesticks, and in the center a picture of their only boy, who had died when but a lad. She looked at it tenderly. Not many years now to wait. Above, on the wall, hung an old-fashioned sampler worked in red thread, "There is no place like home."

A sudden chuckle from her husband brought her back to the present. "Ain't that great, Jane! Hear 'em clap?" He was tapping his old slipper and keeping time to the fascinating music.

Mrs. Andrews acquiesced, but there was doubt in her heart. Was it right for David to be so much interested in such music at his time of life? Time was when every Sunday morning they had hitched up old Prince and driven sedately to the white meeting house. Now that winter was here, it was much easier to settle down in the warm sitting room and "listen in" to the beautiful service in some big city church. Through the week David loved to pick up the liveliest music in the air. Oh, shades of their Puritan ancestors! True, they had only reached their present comfort and rest through a life filled with the sternest kind of labor, isolated among the forgotten hills. Now, suddenly, like magic across their horizon, they were able to mingle and listen to the world.

There was a creak that seemed to come from the back shed. Mrs. Andrews turned her head quickly and looked out into the kitchen. It was dark there and only a dim light in the sitting room. They had been listening to a weird sort of play at the beginning of the evening and David had turned out the lights to make it more realistic.

The noise came again.

Mrs. Andrews' heart beat a trifle faster. Then she remembered Tommy, their old cat. He had a way of creeping about like that. David was far away in a western state and having a most enjoyable time. She would not disturb him.

Suddenly, before she could cry out, she felt something cold pressing against her forehead. Before her stood a short man with a cap pulled low over his eyes. In his hand he held the revolver which she felt at her head. His other hand was over her mouth and he made a motion for silence.

Another man, tall and gaunt of frame, was moving across the room toward the radio. David was shaking his head to the music which came rollicking into the room as if in sheer defiance of the tragedy about to be enacted there.

Swift, agonizing thoughts hurled themselves through Mrs. Andrews' brain. What was the use of that great horn, sending out its beautiful music, if it could not in turn receive and broadcast their message for help?

The cold steel of the revolver slipped slightly to the bridge of her nose. She gave one wild shriek.

"Janie! Janie!" David's arms were around her. She looked desperately about. The men were gone, and her husband was holding her close and patting her shoulder.

"Oh, David," she moaned, "they held a cold revolver to my head and it fell to my nose just as they were about to shoot you."

David gently took off her steel-rimmed spectacles and laid them on the table.

"Guess there's all the revolvers you felt, wife. That play was too much, and you fell asleep while I was fox-trotting. They just said 'good-night' to me out in Nebraska, anyway. Wait till I put Tommy out and we'll go to bed. It's 2 o'clock."

Growth of Hostility Toward the Railroads In Texas

By WALTER SPLAWN
Railroad Commissioner of Texas.

From 1891 to 1922 inclusive there were constructed in Texas 7511 miles of railroad, an average of 235 miles a year. The cost as reported to the Commission was $453,000,000 or about $14,000,000 per year. This brought the total railway mileage of the state up to about 16,000 miles.

Thus far we have been tracing the development of railroad mileage in Texas. We have noticed the extent to which state aid was supplied the railroads and the eagerness with which the public encouraged railway construction.

At first it was supposed that the railroad business might be conducted as any other; that is to say, it was thought that competition would be sufficient to regulate railroads and assure fair rates and adequate service, just as competion is relied in various lines of business activity. During the past forty years the railroads of the country have been definitely brought under the close regulation of state and federal governments. We can understand this only after an inquiry into the causes of a change in the attitude of the public toward the carriers. This change amounted to a hostility toward the old method of management without regulation. In these articles we will speak of hostility toward the railroads; meaning by that phrase, hostility toward the practices that came to be objectionable and which were attributed to lack of public regulation.

The growth in Texas of hostility toward the railroads may not be explained apart from conditions which prevailed in other parts of the United States. It is both southern and western. Before the Civil War the development of Texas kas an extension of the Old South. After the Civil War the development has been much that of a western state. Texas has developed intimate and important commercial relations with both the Middle West and the Atlantic seaboard. The industrial disturbances and upheavals in public opinion which took place in the north and west during the first twenty-five years after the Civil War greatly affected the thinking and conclusions of the people of Texas. Let us now inquire how this came about. While the facts set forth in these articles have been generally known for many years, yet the re-statement of them is justified by the light they shed upon the origin and development of hostility in Texas toward railroad companies.

One source of discontent which prevailed throughout the country as well as in Texas was the fall of prices after the Civil War. Debts had been freely contracted in a depreciated currency. After the War the currency began to increase in value to the embarrassment particularly of those in the west who had borrowed to purchase land or to make improvements. Pirces fell and debtors found it very difficult to secure means of payment for obligations incurred during the period of inflation. In times of stress every source of expense is closely scrutinized. Very naturally freight rates were looked into by shippers and in turn by the consuming public.

DEBATERS OF ALICE HIGH SCHOOL IN CONTEST WITH YOE HIGH SCHOOL TEAM.

The debating teams of the Alice High School accompanied by Superintendent Guthrie of the Alice schools visited Cameron Tuesday of this week and engaged the Yoe High School teams in debate on the Subject of participation by the United States in the League of Nations.

Misses Mitchell and Tanner of Alice representing the negative side of the question lost to Miss Rosalie Baskin and Miss Ruth Kemp of Cameron by a two to one decision, while the team of young men from Alice, composed of Messrs. Betts and Rhode, upholding the affirmative, won a unanimous decision over Messrs. Irvine Harlan and Mike Wiley of Cameron.

Real debating ability was shown by all of the four teams.

The Alice teams are making a week's automobile tour in the Southwestern portion of the State and have engagements with some seven or eight high schools.

The young ladies of the Alice teams were the luncheon guests of Misses Baskin and Kemp, and the young men were the guests of Mr. H. D. Keeling of the High School faculty.

Supt. Guthrie of Alice, a member of the Alice Lions Club was the guest of Sueprintendent Fisher at the Lions luncheon.

SAYS THE NEW ESSEX OUT PERFORMS ITS FOUR CYLINDER PREDECESSOR.

"Since the public has learned that the new Essex six will actually outperform even its famous predecessors, we have been up against the unprecedented experience of a continud line of the interested motorist," said Bismark Horstmann, Hudson and Essex dealer.

"The month's business taught me a number of things. The principal one is that the public is still intensly interested in the performing ability of a motor car. I had rather convinced myself that the average motorist didn't care any more for unusual acceleration and pep.

"So in presenting the new Essex, we said very little about its really remarkable ability on the road. We were a little hesitant to say that it would actually out climb, out-pull, out-accelerate and out-run the famous Essex four, at all speeds up to 50 miles an hour. When we began demonstrating those facts, our business took a jump forward that surprised me.

"I have no hesitancy in predicting a serious car shortage this spring. That shortage will apply of course only to those manufacturers who are giving a big measure of value. But the shortage will come in those lines and it will apply with particular force to Hudson and Essex. Despite the operation of the Hudson-Essex plant at full capacity, the public has been laid up by dealers for the taken cars so fast that no stock has spring.

"The man who intends buying a car had better get his order in now.

"The general rise in prices has undoubtedly sharpened the public's buying activity. There is a feeling that prices most certainly will not come down, and may very easily reach a higher level. That statement is made, not as any inference on what might happen with Hudson-Essex, but simply as a report of my own observations as I have talked to buyers in the sales room."

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

LIONS CLUB ENDORSES THE MOVE FOR A NEW HOTEL IN CAMERON

Four recommedations made by Lions have been adopted by the club for a working program in its civic aspirations.

Among the recommendations culled from the one minute speeches of Lions the recommendation to advocate the erection of a new modern hotel in Cameron was placed at the head of the list. This recommendation was contained in the speech of Lion Claude Triggs.

Other programs adopted are: Concentration on a high powered publicity campaign suggested from recommendations made jointly by Lion J. C. Martin and J. B. White.

Active participation in public health work suggested by Dr. A. S. Epperson.

Promotion of the Boy Scout movement by Lion John Henderson.

The Tuesday luncheon of the club was attended by the largest number yet noted at the board. A lively meeting resulted from the plans made by John Henderson who was toastmaster.

Miss Olive Henderson and Mrs. R. P. Jeter rendered two musical selections on the piano and violin, applauded and thoroughly appreciated by the Lions. Scout McCullom gave a demonstration of scoutcraft after he had repeated for the Lions the oath of the organization. Tieing the twelve different knots with a rope made by himself, Scout McCullom's exhibition was one of the big features of the program.

Lion J. C. Martin introduced three new members with a speech of humorous cast. Lions Walter F. Sharpe, Chas. Swift and Ray Burke responded with short talks.

Lion Hutcherson asked to address the Lions on a suggested program of help for the boys represented in the Boy Scout movement discussed the need for right examples among the men to whom the boys are looking and in whose footsteps they are sure to follow. The speech was very impressive, freighted with appeal and brought forth waves of applause from the Lions. "The great tragedy of human life is that so many men are born into the world and live out their alloted time and never find any great purpose in life," said Lion Hutcherson.

Each lion was named and will be known among Lions by the sobriquet thrust upon them by fellow Lions in a spirit of fine levity. Some of the Lions protested others acquiesed.

The Club is facing a great program for good in Cameron and is attracting attention over the territory.

BAPTIST MISSIONS GREATLY EXTENDED

THE WORK ON FOREIGN FIELDS SHOWS LARGE EXPANSION FROM FORWARD MOVEMENT

NEW COUNTRIES ENTERED

Southern Forces Now Have Mission ary Fields on Every Side of Globe With Audience of 900,000,000.

DR. J. F. LOVE,
Sec. Foreign Mission Board

Indicating the extent to which the foreign mission work of the Southern Baptist Convention has been set forward by the larger proceeds that have come to it from the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, Dr. J. F. Love, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, reports that since 1919, when the Campaign was projected, the following increases in the work of that board have been made: Number of foreign missionaries on the field has increased from 328 to 540, number of native workers from 627 to 2,820, number of churches from 505 to 891, number of church members from 43,659 to 103,328, number of self-supporting churches from 143 to 211, number of baptisms per year from 5,635 to 12,611, number of Sunday schools from 760 to 1,447, number of Sunday school pupils from 36,115 to 67,497, number of day schools from 512 to 796, number of pupils in day schools from 15,722 to 32,789, and contributions per year from $173,372 to $437,568.

Baptisms Gain Rapidly

Nearly as many persons have been baptized by the missionaries on the foreign fields since the Campaign began as had been baptized during all the seventy-five years of missionary operations prior to the inception of this movement, Dr. Love reports. This does not include Russia, where more than one million members have come into the Baptist churches in recent years. Nearly one-fourth as many persons were baptized on the foreign fields last year as there were members, all told, on the foreign fields when the Campaign began.

At the time the Campaign began Southern Baptists were operating only in Mexico, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, China, Japan, Africa and Itlay. As a result of the larger proceeds made avaiable from the Campaign the board has been enabled to enter the new fields of Spain, Jugo Slavia, Hungary, Roumania, and Russia in Europe, and Palestine and Siberia in Asia. This gives to Southern Baptists a total missionary audience of 900,000,000, or more than one-half the total population of the globe.

Older Fields Re-Enforced

But of more significance than the entry into these new fields is the reinforcement that has come to the work in the older fields, in the estimation of the officials of the Foreign Mission Board. This reinforcement consists not only in sending out many new workers but providing larger equipment in the way of church houses, mission residences, schools, hospitals, orphanges, publishing houses and the like. Summarizing the growth that has come in the forces on the older fields since the Campaign began the following results are pointed out:

Number of churches, 76% increase; number of church members, 108% increase; number of church buildings, 45% increase; number of schools, 55% increase; number of pupils, 108% increase; number of residences for missionaries, 94% increase; number of foreign missionaries, 63% increase; number of native missionaries, 264% increase; number of hospital buildings, 21% increase; number of treatments given, 61% increase; number of hospital beds, 104% increase.

Much Remains To Be Done

With all the increases that have come in the foreign mission work only a portion of the program that was contemplated for foreign missions as a result of the Campaign has been accomplished as yet. It is in the hope of completing this program through more effectively equipping the work and workers on both the older fields and the new [illegible] that the representatives of the Foreign Mission Board are cooperating with those of the 75 Million Campaign in an effort to complete the payments of all subscriptions to this movement at this time.

Crop Planting Late In County But Season Good

Continued rains for the past sixty days has delayed the preparation of farm lands in Milam county and it now appears that all crops will be late. It is said that hardly one third of the land has been broken and prepared for planting but if clear weather comes within the next few days corn and small grain planting will go forward.

Plenty of time remains for planting of cotton but it is feared that grain crops will be late. However a splendid season is in the ground, enough to insure a good cotton crop but some moisture will be necessary to complete the growth and maturity of corn and small grains. In some sections a little corn acreage has been planted.

A large area of the cotton lands of this county are in the bottoms. This is one of the largest cotton producing counties in the world and the crop is the principal source of support of business.

The continued rain and cold has proven a hindrance to the planting of gardens and truck patches, the ground not being warm enough to sprout the seeds.

THE PEOPLE TOOK A GREAT STEP FORWARD— GOOD ROADS ASSURED.

Co-operation will lift most anything—business or project—to success, and the people of Commissioners Precinct No. 4, of Milam county have learned this is true and demonstrated the fact in last Friday's road bond election which resulted in an overwhelming majority for the bonds. We have learned that this community is what we make it, and co-operation in community life is not confined to the cities and towns where we hear most about it. This fact is also brought out visibly in last Friday's election. Bad weather and bad roads made a very bad condition and there was much work to do and somebody had to do it. The people in the near-by communities to Thorndale got busy and stayed on the job and they deserve full credit for the work done by them in behalf of the bonds, good roads and the progress it means to the whole precinct to put our roads in the best shape possible for us with the means available. It is a great example of team work and it will prove to be the greatest step forward that we have taken co-operatively in a long time

The vote authorizing a bond issue of $125,000 with which to build and repair our public roads carried in the election last Friday by a majority of 74 votes more thar the two-third necessary under the law governing bonds issues. The votes by boxes was as follows:

	For Bonds	Against
Thorndale	285	86
Salty	19	10
Watson Branch	21	35
Ellison Ridge	40	18
Conoley	45	20

The people as a whole, the Champion thinks, are very much gratified at the result of the election. There are none of us who feel that we are not a part of the community and therefore willing to live to ourselves and let the world wag along the best it can without our help. Rather, we all feel—whether we voted for the bonds for rads or against them—that we prefer to help carry on the needful things, projects and enterprise, of the community rather than to let the community carry us. And further more, we have learned now how to do something with someone else. We have learned team work, a lesson in helpfulness, each for all and all for each, so to speak, ard we are going to continue to work cooperatively in expending the money on the roads to the greatest good to the greatest number and see to it that the money which the precinct borrows buys the greatest amount of roads the same amount of money ever bought since time began back younder in the garden.—Thorndale Champion.

THORNDALIAN HAPPILY MARRIED AT PALESTINE.

The many friends of Mr. Thos. Clark will be interested to know of his recent marriage to Miss Catherine Murrell at Palestine on Monday of last week. Mr. Clark is a former Thorndale boy and a son of Mrs. J. S. Clark of Thorndale and has many friends among our people.

The following account was taken from the Palestine Herald of March 5 concerning the happy event:

"A pretty wedding was solemnized at Sacred Heart church Monday morning at 7 o'clock. When Miss Ruby Catherine Murrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Murrell, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Clark. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and pink and white roses. At the appointed time Mrs. Fred Vinson sang the bridal solo "Lead Me All the Way." The wedding March from Mendelsshon was played by Sister Plaicido, accompanied by Laurence Murrell on the violin.

"The bridemaids were Miss Violet Storck, who wore a black crepe satin and carried an arm bouruet of white carnations: Miss Ida Jander, cousin of the bride, wore a charming spring frock of pearl gray roshanara crepe and carried ping carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Sam Peeples, sister of the groom, was beautiful in all white canton crepe.

"Miss Bertha Frei, maid of honor, wore a lovely navy blue canton crepe and carried pink carnations.

"Little Frarces Leo Lalwell, all in white as ring bearer carried the ring in a callo lily.

"Evelyn Schnorr in pink accordian pleated georgette was flower girl, carried a Marie Antoniette basket of pink roses dropping the petals down the asile.

"Rev. Father Frei stood at the altar. The fair young birde entered on the arm of her father, Mr. W. T. Murrell. She wore a handsome spring suit of beige charmeen, with accessories to match. Her arms were filled with a beautiful shower boquet of bride's roses and lilly of the valley. Mr. Clark was escorted by his brother. Mr. Joe Clark of Thorndale, Texas, as best man. The beautiful ring ceremony was given followed by a nuptial mass. Soft strains of music were played during the mass, and Mrs. Vinson sang the "Ave Maria."

"Immediately after the ceremony a lovely wedding breakfast was served at the Murrell home, and the happy couple left on No. 3, south for New Orleans and Memphis. Mr. Murrell, the bride's father, was the engineer on the train that carried them away. After a short wedding trip they will be at home with the bride's parents.

"There were many costly and elegant wedding gifts. Among them a chest of silver from the general office where Mr. Clark is employed."

CITY HAS MECHANIC TO OVERHAUL FIRE TRUCK.

Chief Monta Thomas of the fire department has completed the overhauling of the American LaFrance fire truck, having had a mechanic from Dallas come to Cameron. The chief also had the assistance of the Cameron Machine Shop mechanics and now the truck is in fine shape.

A large number of the parts were found to be badly worn and on a recent run to a fire the truck was stalled. The city recently instructed the chief to negotiate for the purchase of a new truck but no report has been made to the council.

It is believed that the city needs another motor unit for the department but on account of the large cost it may not be possible to get this truck this year.

American Food Now Being Delivered To Adult Sufferers in Germany Will Relieve Distress, Committee States

The German women in the scene reproduced above are waiting for a bit of margarine outside a shop which flaunts the dubious sign, "butter and cheese." This is only one of the little dramas being enacted daily in Germany at the present time.

The American Committee for Relief of German Children has begun delivery of food packages to adults in Germany at the expense of their friends and relatives in this country, a service which bids fair to relieve much of the distress under which the poverty-stricken of Germany are laboring today. The committee's general funds are restricted to the free feeding of children, hence it was necessary to provide some method by which grown-ups could be given food without the financial burden incidental thereto falling upon the American public.

Under the food package arrangement any person in America who has relatives or friends in Germany may assure the delivery to them of 119 pounds of food, including 49 pounds of flour, 25 pounds of rice, 10 pounds of sugar, 8 pounds of cooking fats, 3 pounds of cocoa and 24 one-pound tins of evaporated milk. The cost of the package is ten dollars and it may be purchased either in person or by mail by applying at the food package department of the American Committee for Relief of German Children, 42 Broadway, New York.

This committee has as its chairman Major-General Henry T. Allen, commander of the American troops on the Rhine, and he has arranged with the German government to insure and transport the food packages purchased by buyers on this side of the Atlantic.

The food is shipped in bulk to Germany and there is made up into the packages. This reduces the cost to a minimum. Latest government statistics show that the same package as that sold by the American Committee would cost more than $13 in Berlin if all the ingredients were obtainable, which is doubtful.

Because of their undernourished condition the people of Germany are easy prey to the dread maladies, and unless they receive assistance from their people in this country they face intense suffering.

PENN WOLF KENNELS ARE PRAISED BY SPORTSMAN

AUSTIN DOG FANCIERS NOW HAVE FIFTEEN WALKER HOUNDS BRED HERE.

The following letter has been received by District Clerk Penn Wolf regarding dogs sold to sportsmen at Austin from his famous kennels in Cameron and will be of interest to sportsmen in this county as well as other sections of the country where dogs have been sold from the famous Walker pack of Mr. Wolf:

Austin, Texas, Mar. 17, 1924.

Mr. Penn Wolf,
Cameron, Texas.

Dear Sir—Yours of the 5th, received and noted in regards to the five dogs you are keeping for me. I will write and describe the kind of dogs I want later, as at present I am very busy.

I have had Kate in two races, the first race she ran hard seven hours, and it was awfully hard on her, as she had just come out of that sandy country and was not used to this rough and rocky country. After the race was over she had to be carried to the car, and I claim they have to be game to do this. The other race was only four hours, and she made that in a cake-walk.

She is lots more than you said she was, and the fact of the matter, she is the best cold trailer that I have ever owned and stays right up in the middle of the fastest company.

Today I figured up the number of dogs that you have shipped to Austin, and with the last two shipped which are now accepted by Mr. Barnhill and myself they number fifteen.

It is useless for me to tell you that out of the fifteen there is not a single bad one.

Have you any idea what it would take to buy this bunch of dogs back? There is not a one that you could buy back for double the price you sold them for.

I will give you some of the prices that have been refused on some of these dogs.

Mr. Banner refused $150 for Rube and also Kate, and Mr. Barnhill refused $300 for Tim and Sim, and Maggie is not priced under any condition. It is useless for me to go and tell you what it would take to get these dogs.

You have not asked me to write you anything as to how your dogs have proven here in Austin, but feel that any man handling such dogs as these are, should be complimented.

I have never had the pleasure of meeting you but hope to in the near future.

Very truly yours,
H. LINAM.

Crops Measured by Meter on Auto Dashboard

For recording the measurements of fields planted in various crops, a meter attached to the dashboard of an automobile has been included in the equipment of the Department of Agriculture. The instrument is operated from the same gearing mechanism used for an ordinary speedometer. Each crop may be recorded on its particular section and the dimensions of the "stands" are shown in feet. At the right of the device is a scale that registers the total distances covered in miles and the number of trips made. As each patch of a certain kind is measured, it is added to the total. Each scale is labeled and has a button which must be pressed to throw it into action. Ten principal crops are provided for as well as idle ground and pasture land.

Renewing Golf Balls

A cheap and practical method of renewing old golf balls is to fill the cracks with white rubber cement, which can be obtained at any drug store. After filling the cracks, the entire surface of the ball is painted. By repairing the balls in this way there are no bumps or cracks, which have a tendency to influence the course of the ball, and the whitened surface will show up well. It is a good idea to wash the balls in cool soapy water before going to the grounds, as this helps to retain the old luster and removes stains.

Secrets of the Seven Seas Told by "Bottle Papers"

To learn the speed and direction of ocean currents, government experts use "bottle papers." Accurate knowledge of these drifts is important to navigation, and the safety of hundreds may depend upon it. Small slips, with directions for their return printed in the principal languages, are given to ship captains, to be sealed in flasks and thrown overboard. Months or years later, some return. One floated nearly across the Atlantic and back, and another crossed the widest part of the Pacific in a little over two years. A third, dropped near the Cape of Good Hope, was picked up on the western coast of Australia.

Sand for Railroads' Safety Costs Millions Yearly

While big figures are used in telling the cost of safety to the railways, the amazing item to the average person is the amount spent for sand. Four tons are required for every mile of road in the United States, according to the figures of one trunk line with 7,500 miles of track. As this road is in the middle west and south, where mountains are not encountered, the figures given are regarded as conservative. The cost of putting the sand into the engine boxes is placed at $2.2 a ton as an average minimum. For all the roads, the yearly cost is estimated at $2,637,070. For the most part the sand is brought from river bottoms and dried by waste steam at the round house.

Magnets Lay Nails Straight in Packing Boxes or Kegs

To lay nails straight in containers, a packer equipped with magnets is reported to have been built by a Swiss inventor. The machine is said to be able to fill kegs, boxes, or paper cartons and to handle wire rods, hairpins, knife blades and fishhooks with equal ease. The articles to be boxed up are poured into a huge vibrating hopper in lots of about a thousand pounds and are straightened out on large trays below.

Inexpensive Sign Hanger

Substantial and attractive metal signs can readily be made from lengths of pipe and fittings and a piece of sheet metal. The hanger is attached to a building, as shown in the illustration; no guy wires or bracing of any kind are required to support it, still it is so solid that the strongest winds will not loosen it. Two different designs are shown; one for mounting the sign at right angles to the sides of a building and the other for mounting it on a corner so that it can be seen from two streets. The sign itself is a piece of heavy sheet metal attached to the pipe frame by means of metal clips, passed around the pipe and riveted to the edge of the sheet metal as shown.

NEW LAURELS WON BY JACK TAYLOR FRIDAY

FORMER YOE HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE WINS BAYLOR MEET IN DISCUS THROW.

Jack Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Taylor of Cameron, has won new laurels as a discus thrower at Baylor University where he is a student.

The meeting was held Friday Mar. 14. It was Baylor's First Intramural meet and Taylor won first place in the discus and has received the ribbon awarded in the event.

The following was printed in the school publication Saturday.

"Jack Taylor, Fresman and Interscholastic discus star, threw the discus a distance of 130 feet, which betters the mark made at the Conference meet last season by Jew Goodman of Baylor who threw the discus 127 feet and 6 inches. Taylor is not eligible for varsity track this season but will make Coach Wolf a valuable man next season.

No exceptional records were made in the track events but the time was good considering the heavy track and the chilling wind which swept the field."

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE.

Why Enter Essay Writing Contest, by Miss Helen Tarkington, Thorndae, Texas:

Of the various activities of the Interscholastic League which high school students are eligible, none is more within the realm of every-day class work than the essay writing.

Do not let the term "essay" frighten the student; it is merely the sophisticated name for "theme" or "composition," a term dearly beloved by all high school students, and teachers as well.

Since essay writing taken little or no preparation outside of class; because this is a field in which declaiming students may take part; since this is one contest for which the students have been trained throughout the year; and since it cultivates and stimulates the art of written English, the English teachers in the Milam county schools, should encourage a number of students in each school to try out in the contest of theme writing.

The problem before instructors of English seems to be to secure sufficient interest in the contest to arouse a spirit of rivalry. A good student should not find it difficult to win a high place in such a contest, one in which results depend upon regular, everyday work. A good plan to be followed in English classes during the remaining time preceding the Interscholastic League is to give some additional drill to all the high school classes on theme writing; These themes might profitably be read, discussed and corrected in class —thus arousing comeptition in each class.

The following subjects which were assigned for the Interscholastic League for 1923 indicate the type of essays which will be assigned this year:

Our High School Paper—The Value of Pig Clubs, Good roads, a community investment the Lesson of Valley Forge, the Texas Pioneer, a character sketch; the Boy Scout Movement, Are Inter-school Athletic Contests Worth While?, My First Day in School, the Greatest American Inventor, His Contribution to the World, My Ideal of a Typical American, How to Make and Fly a Kite, How to Make a Cake, A Moonlight Picnic, the Fall of the Alamo, Sam Houston, a character sketch; My Favorite Teacher, a character sketch; An Embarrassing Situation, A Description of my Home—the Boston Tea Party, Benjamin Franklin, his contribution to humanity.

DON'T RISK NEGLECT.

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Pills as have your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor. A Cameron case.

John A. Matula, Crockett Ave., says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had a soreness in the small of my back and across my loins I bought Doan's Pills at Schiller's Drug Store and used them as directed. Doan's corrected the trouble and strengthened my back."

RELIES ON DOAN'S

Over four years later, Mr. Matula added: "I take Doan's Pills occasionally when I notice my kidneys are out of order and just a few regulate them. Doan's keep my kidneys healthy."

She Is Not for Sale

That's the way a lot of families feel about good old Bossy. She has been a faithful friend of the family, giving all the milk they could use and even some for the neighbors.

Of course you always think that you feed her well, but do you? Just plenty of feed does not always mean proper feeding. Good old Bossie must have a ration that she can really turn into milk.

Cow Chow produces more milk and more butter fat because it contains elements that are deficient in the average ration. It keeps cows from robbing their bodies for milk-making nutrients and lengthens the milking period. By feeding Cow Chow you not only produce more pounds of milk, but you keep your cow in better condition.

Just try Cow Chow for a month, feed it as directed, and watch the difference.

TWENTY-THREE YEARS AGO

(From the Files of the Herald)

Hubert Hefley visited Belton, Temple, Rogers and other towns in Bell county last week. He was looking for a good team for his bus, with a view of purchasing, but says he couldn't find a team to suit him.

T. F. Hardy, cashier of the First National Bank, went to Waco last Monday to see the exhibition of Liquid Air. He says it is wonderful and every thing was done as advertised.

Henry Adams has returned from the Phillipines, where he served with the U. S. Volunteers since September 1899. He was given an honorable discharge. Henry says there is some severe fighting still going on over there.

Milton Lankford will write your deeds, contracts, transcripts, or any other papers you want neatly type written. Office at Court House.

R. T. Cooper of Maysfield was in Calvert this past week and paid this office a pleasant call. Mr. Cooper is an old "print" and one of Milam county's up to date farmers. He informs us that he has telephone connection with Cameron using the barbed wire fences along the route as a line of communication.—Calvert Courier.

B. F. Akerman died suddenly Tuesday morning of heart failure, superinduced by chills. Deceased was 72 years of age and was an old citizen of Cameron. He was liberal hearted and well liked.

Mrs. Sarash Elizabeth Ford passed peacefully away march 17, after a long illness. God bless the bereaved husband and motherless children, and may each one, like the wife and mother, be ready when God calls.

Last Friday G. B. Roberts died at his home in this city after a brief illness with pneumonia, superinduced by la grippe. "Berry" Roberts, as he was familiarly called, was one of the best men we have ever known. As a friend and companion, he was as true as it was possible for a man to be.

Last Saturday morning the sad intelligence was communicated over the phones of the death of Miss Bessie Smith, second daughter of Hon. and Mrs. H. F. Smith. She was a young lady of bright mind and amiable disposition and highly esteemed by all her associates.

Pain In Back & Sides

"FOR A LONG TIME," says Mrs. Dora Payne, of Huntington, Tenn., "I felt listless, tired and worn-out. I did not feel like doing my work, visiting or anything.

"I suffered much pain in my back and sides. My limbs hurt, my knees would tremble without apparent cause and I would have to sit down.

"I was very nervous. . . . I would have a tired, dull headache.

"I had read so much about Cardui I asked my husband to get it for me. The very first bottle seemed to help me. After the second . . . I was better than I had been in months. I certainly can praise Cardui.

"I have taken three bottles. Now I hardly wait, when the sun shines, to garden. I am feeling fine."

Similar results to those described above have been reported by thousands of other women. Cardui's 40 years of success should encourage you to give it a thorough trial for the relief of any common female ailments.

THE BIGGEST INDUSTRY IN THE SOUTH.

Cotton is the biggest and most important of the South—it's the staple crop; it brings more money into the Cotton producing states than any other. The average crop in Texas is estimated at about three million bales, worth approximately five hundred and five million dollars. The crop of Texas and Louisiana together is worth about six hundred and fifty million dollars.

The handling and financing of this tremendous business involves a great deal of specialized work, classifying and stapling every bale. Samples from each bale must be graded several times during the journey of the cotton from the field to the factory. This work requires trained men. The demand for such men is always urgent. The ability to grade cotton is essential for the local buyer, employees of bonded warehouses and compresses, representatives of northern factories, cotton brokers, and in many other branches of the industry. The farmer himself should, in protecting his own interest, be able to grade cotton. He is completely at the mercy of the buyer. It is self-evident that a man, in order to get full value for what he has to sell, should know what he is selling.

We can make a competent cotton classer of you in a few weeks time, qualifiying you for a position as buyer, or wherever the services of a capable cotton man are needed. Our courses include classing, stapling, averaging, buying, selling, shipping, exporting, keeping of Munger's Gin Record, Merchant's Cotton Record, warehouse record, cotton office Stock Books, and other blanks necessary to the business. It opens the way for you to earn a good salary in a good position, and make you familiar with the most important industry of the South. If you are in business for yourself or a cotton raiser, you can't afford not to take advantage of your special course in Cotton Classing and handling for Farmers and Cotton Man. Enter any time and advance as fast as your ability will permit. We have competent instructors in charge.

We also have thorough practical courses in Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Finance, Telegraphy, Wireless Telegraphy and Telephony, and Civil Service, any one of which will enable you to take a position in the business world at a good salary. We secure positions for our graduates.

We 23,000 Men

Present you the utmost in fine cars

THERE are 23,000 of us building Studebaker cars. Most of us are partners in the business. Thousands of us are stockholders. All of us, after a certain time, get dividends on wages.

All of us, after two years, get vacations with pay. All of us, after one year, get dividends on wages. After five years, that annual dividend adds 10% to our earnings.

The company spends vast sums on co-operative work with us. When we retire, we get pensions.

So Studebaker cars represent the best that we, in combination, know how to offer you.

* * *

Some of us belong to management. If we do better than expected, we get 10% of the excess.

So every man among us does his best to make Studebaker cars supreme.

Our fine backing

Behind us is an honored name. For 72 years Studebaker has been the leader in quality and class.

We have $90,000,000 of assets. We have $50,000,000 in model plants. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. So Studebaker cars are built by modern and efficient methods.

We have an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly. That to maintain and develop Studebaker standards.

We subject Studebaker cars to 30,000 inspections. That requires 1,200 men. All told over 70,000 machine and hand operations are performed in manufacture of a Studebaker car. In so many operations, though each one is small, there is a great opportunity for economies and savings.

We have a $10,000,000 body plant, to maintain the Studebaker standard of coach work. There sons, fathers and grandfathers are working together, to build such bodies as Studebaker always built.

Those bodies are finished by many operations, including 15 coats of paint and varnish.

The open bodies are upholstered in real leather. The closed bodies in Chase Mohair. That is made from the silky fleece of Angora goats.

We pay for those extras — and others—out of savings. Building our own bodies saves you on some types up to $300 per car.

We never stint

The rule here is to give the utmost in every part and detail.

We have 35 formulas for steel. Each has been demonstrated best for its purpose. On some of these steels we pay 15% premium to get the formulas exact.

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bearings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

We give unusual equipment. On some Big-Six models, for instance, we include two nickel-plated bumpers, one or two extra disc wheels with cord tires, a courtesy light, a motometer, steel trunk, etc.

How we do this

We give you these extra values through quantity production. We build 150,000 cars per year — more than any other fine-car builder. Our large expenses are divided by that enormous output.

We do it by building our own bodies, our own parts. Thus we save outside profits.

We do it because we have up-to-date plants, with all forms of modern equipment.

The results are these: Beauty, quality and luxury such as no maker can surpass.

Prices far below the usual. Our Light-Six, built by ordinary methods, would sell for from $200 to $400 more. Our Big-Six can be compared only with the highest-priced cars in the world.

Here are 13 models, from $1,025 to $2,685. Each of them offers scores of advantages over any comparable car. They offer such values that the trend toward Studebakers has become overwhelming.

Go analyze the reasons before you buy a quality car.

See how Studebaker gained top place

145,167 people last year paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

The sales have almost trebled in the past three years. Studebaker growth in fine cars is the marvel of this industry.

Go see the reasons. See the scores of extra values Studebaker offers.

There are 13 models. Prices start at $1025. They go to the highest price a fine car needs to cost.

Don't buy a car for years to come without knowing how Studebaker gained its amazing popularity.

Lynch Davidson Warns Against Bloc Government In Farm - Labor Move

A statewide awakening to the support of his warning that the Non-partisan league was attempting to put its stamp of socialistic and radical statesmanship upon Texas has resulted from addresses touching on that subject which he delivered in South Texas last week, Lynch Davidson, candidate for governor, declared in statement issued Monday.

"Letters from my supporters in every section of Texas and communications from many sections over signatures of voters who hitherto have not committed themselves have been hitting my desk at every mail since my return Sunday," Mr. Davidson stated. "Every one of them congratulated me upon the position I have taken and condemning the attempt to thrust bloc and group government upon Texas through the efforts of such candidates who sought and secured the farm-labor bloc's indorsement."

Especial condemnation, said Mr. Davidson, is noted in the communications he has received of the recent activities of the Farm-Labor conference and the acceptance by certain State candidates of that bloc's platform after they had promised to support its provisions.

"Everywhere I have been during the past week," said Mr. Davidson, "It has become necessary for me to distinguish myself as the Davidson who refused at Dallas two weeks ago to pander to this political farm-labor group by pre-election agreement to its self-serving socialistic platform to get its votes. At the same time I find the conservative farmer and conservative laborer in no frame of mind to permit the so-called farm-labor organization to herald the fact that it represents them. It is indeed, refreshing to find that this vast class of substantial Texans of the farming and laboring classes who for so many years have so steadfastly supported me in my program for a bigger, better State, are not wavering an iota in their determination to constantly thwart socialism and radicalism in attempted inroads into our State affairs.

"Letters reaching me since my return strongly condemn candidates who are now touring the State in the interest of the farm-labor politicians preaching the gospel of unlimited taxation by repealing the constitutional tax limit for ad valorem purposes and substituting therefor a system of special taxes ranging all the way from a tax on luxuries to a tax on intangible values. Nor does the candidate's espousal of the farm-labor politicians demand for a bureau of State insurance get by without a severe challenge promising as it does to add from 4000 to 6000 employes to the State's payroll.

"Those who are lined up with me in this fight on radicalism are one with me in agreeing that the farm-labor conference tactics are parallel with the Non-partisan league of North Dakota; the same Non-partisan league that put Jack Walton into office in Oklahoma; and the same Non-partisan league which has the habit of bobbing up at regular and irregular intervals in Texas seeking to thrust its head into our State government."

Lynch Davidson declared that despite the fact the primary was yet four months distant it seemed almost certain that the prevailing issue in the campaign would be that of conservatism versus radicalism in Texas government.

"I am leading the forces of conservatism," he concluded, "and the response, which has greeted me, has been spontaneous from every section of Texas."

SOIL SURVEY OF MILAM COUNTY TO BEGIN SOON

REPORT TO CLUB INDICATES EARLY BEGINNING OF GOVERNMENT WORK.

It is said that the soil survey of Milam county arranged with the A. & M. College by the Commercial Club of Cameron will in all probability begin some time in April.

T. S. Henderson, Jr., made this report to the club Monday night. The man who now heads the survey movement in Texas will be in charge of the survey in this county, it was said. He has been in Wichita County.

It will require three years to complete the final reports on the survey but during the time valuable data will be published bearing on the findings of the committee from time to time.

It is also said that if the people of the county show the proper interest that another and more important survey taking in agriculture, industry and geology will made by the department.

The commercial club will of course make every effort to see that the survey accomplishes the maximum of results in benefits to the people.

OBJECTION IS RAISED TO BUILDING POULTRY EXHIBIT BUILDINGS.

Residents in the vicinity of the new addition to the park lodged protest with the Commercial Club Monday night to the proposed plans to erect a poultry exhibit building on the street leading to the park.

The club passed a motion asking the committee to consult with the residents and to incorporate the findings in its report to the club on next Monday night.

The committee has not reported but it is thought that a meeting will be arranged sometime in the near future to act on this matter.

The Commercial Club has received a communication from Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in which she expresses appreciation for the message of sympathy telegraphed to her on the death of her husband Woodrow Wilson.

Tartars Always Barbarians.

So far as we can judge, writes Cornelia James Cannon in North American Review, the Tartar is a race which has always been barbarian. It has been a virile and predatory race, has never developed a civilization worthy of the name. The infusion of its blood has doubtless hampered and retarded the development of the Balkans, and it has been only China's extraordinary capacity to conquer her conquerors which has saved that country from the blight of the Manchu.

Wind Cuts Train Speed in Two.

About half the power produced by railroad locomotives is employed in breaking down the wind resistance against the trains, according to experiments conducted by the French Aero-Technical institute at Saint Cyr. The experts decided that this was too much and set about building a model train of cars based on the latest principles. They tried it out in a special tunnel with the result that 72 per cent of the wind resistance was eliminated.

Jack's Prayer.

Little Jack had been so naughty that mother had to give him a spanking, and all that afternoon a desire for revenge rankled in his breast. At length bedtime came and kneeling down he said his evening prayer, asking a blessing upon all the members of the family individually—except one. Then, rising, he turned to his mother with a triumphant look, saying as he climbed into bed, "I s'pose you noticed you wasn't in it."

YOU

Usually get just what you pay for. Not often you get a "bargain." Just as well pay a little more and get a really good article, as buy the cheap shoddy one.

This is quite true as to glasses. We make no attempt to compete with the mail order house in price. Likewise they make no attempt to come up with quality in lenses. You simply get what you pay for, and not what you want or really need.

We are registered Optometrist, and our equipment for testing your eyes is modern.

If you need a double vision lens, we recommend the Kryptok invisible lens.

DODGE BROTHERS
TYPE-B SEDAN

The Type-B Sedan could well stand as a concrete symbol of everything the name Dodge Brothers itself has come to represent.

It is honestly and wisely built. It stands up under the sternest kind of service. It will serve long beyond the span of life usually allotted to a motor car.
